CWR sender ID and codes

Nancy Brusselmans (SABAM)

1 - Sender ID Code Administrator:

Nancy BRUSSELMANS
Nancy.brusselmans@sabam.be

2 - How to Assign and Register a New Sender ID Code

- The Society and their Publisher member should discuss what 2 or 3-letter code they would most like to use. Please use 3-letter codes if possible as there is a much larger choice.
- Check the Sender ID and Code table on the CISAC website (www.cisac.org and search for 'Sender ID and Code) to see if the code has already been assigned. If so, please choose another one.
- Once a new code has been decided, the Society should send the details to the Sender Id Code Administrator to be registered. Please include the chosen Code, the publisher's exact name (to be used on the CWR file header record) and their IPI number.
- The Sender ID Code Administrator will check their up-to-date copy of the table (in case it hasn't appeared on the CISAC website yet) to make sure the chosen code is available and then reply to the society confirming (or rejecting) the details.
- The Sender ID Code Administrator will add the new details to the Sender ID and Code table as soon as possible and then send it to CISAC to be put on the website.

3 - How to Register more Publisher Names for Existing Codes

Publishers can now use several names and IPI numbers linked to their Sender Code so that they can use their different affiliates' details in different territories. If a publisher wishes to use a different name and IPI number that has not yet been registered then their Society should notify the details.

- The Publisher and their Society should discuss what IPI number and Publisher name should be used in the Header of the CWR files.
- If the Publisher already has a Sender ID Code, but this particular IPI number and name have not been registered on the Sender ID and Code table, then the Society should contact the Sender ID administrator with the details.
- Please include the original Sender ID Code, the additional Publisher name and IPI number.
- The new details will be added to the Sender ID and Code table and then sent to CISAC to be put on the website as soon as possible.
